CONFIDENTIAL: 25X1 Approved For Release 2001/11AL: CIA-RDF 54-00252A000200040011-2

Mr. H. asked the OSO and OPC representatives for the results of their interviews with branch and dividion chiefs in their respective offices.  25X1  pointed out that he had been able to see most of the OPC people before the committee assembled for the first time and that he had presented most of their views previously. He mentioned the reed for a high grade course in political warfare and a greater stress on interrogation training as well as inclusion of administrative training for all personnel. He also mentioned that it was felt in OPC that more useful subjects than reporting might be given to OPC students in the SOC.  25X1  The OSO representative said that he had contacted, initially, most of the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people for more information on their opinions.  25X1  meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OPC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1  The OSO representative said that if he had an opportunity to read the minutes of the committee meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OPC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1  metalline were even formed after open of the people who they felt might have something to offer to the committee.  Mr. M. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation purposes than for treining value. pointed out that but a very very few people were even dropped after complet
Served as chairman in absence of   joined the committee.		Morning session 6 July 1950 Pherias:
Mr. H. asked the OSO and OPC representatives for the results of their interviews with branch and dividion chiefs in their respective offices.  25X1  pointed out that he had been able to see most of the OPC people before the committee assembled for the first time and that he had presented most of their views previously. He mentioned the reed for a high grade course in political warfare and a greator stress on interrogation training as well as inclusion of administrative training for all personnel. He also mentioned that it was felt in OPC that more useful subjects than reporting might be given to OPC students in the SOC.  25X1  The OSO representative  said that he had contacted, initially, most of the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people for more information on their optinons.  25X1  said that if he had an opportunity to read the minutes of the committee meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the noxt week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OPC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1  might have sansthing to offer to the committee.  Mr. N. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given nore for evaluation purposes than for training value. pointed out that but a very very few people were ever dropped appropriate OC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completing the OC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that less and less emphasis on evaluation was pharged all of the parts and that some people he made until Mr. lad completed his sur	25X1	served as chairman in absence of
pointed out that he had been able to see most of the OPC people before the committee assembled for the first time and that he had presented most of their views previously. He mentioned the reed for a high grade course in political warfare and a greator stress on interrogation training as well as inclusion of administrative training for all personnel. He also mentioned that it was felt in OPC that more useful subjects than reporting might be given to OPC students in the Soc.  25X1 The OSO representative said that he had contacted, initially, most of the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people for more information on their opinions.  25X1 said that if he had an opportunity to read the minutes of the committee meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OPC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1 thought have something to offer to the committee.  Mr. N. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value.  Mr. N. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation purposes than for training value.  Mr. Dependence of the people where a people were ever dropped after completing the OC; that most of that less and less emphasis on evaluation was pixmax given as the student moved to more advanced classes.  He also mentioned that TRD is bringing on board a problem of the people was a method of training. He pointed out that some people	25X1 25X1
before the committee assembled for the first time and that he had presented most of their views previously. He mentioned the reed for a high grade course in political warfare and a greater stress on interrogation training as well as inclusion of administrative training for all personnel. He also mentioned that it was felt in OPC that more useful subjects than reporting might be given to OPC students in the SOC.  The OSO representative said that he had contacted, initially, most of the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people for more information on their opinions.  25X1 said that if he had an opportunity to read the minutes of the committee meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OPC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1 might have something to offer to the committee.  Mr. W. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value. pointed out that but a very very few people were ever dropped after completing the OC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that less and less emphasis on evaluation was pixexx given as the student moved to more advanced classes.  He also mentioned that TRD is bringing on board a who is a specialist in 25X1 tests and measurements. He will work on the evaluation program. The Col. asked that so suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program be made until Mr. had completed his surveys. The Col. thought that this might take six months.  25X		Mr. H. asked the OSO and OPC representatives for the results of their interviews with branch and dividion chiefs in their respective offices.
the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a return visit to these people for more information on their opinions.  25X1    said that if he had an opportunity to read the minutes of the committee meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.    Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OFC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.    25X1		of their views previously. He mentioned the need for a gight grade course in political warfare and a greater stress on interrogation training as well as inclusion of administrative training for all personnel. He also mentioned that it was felt in OPC that more useful subjects than reporting might be given to OPC students.
meetings, he would be able to see the appropriate OSO officials during the next week. The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.  Mr. G. thought there was nothing to be gained by seeing any staff or division chiefs from OFC until the time came for setting up the political course and at that time there would be a number of people to be consulted.  25X1  Thought they might be able to visit who they felt might have something to offer to the committee.  Mr. N. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value.  Dointed out that but a very very few 25X1 people were ever dropped after completing the OC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that less and less emphasis on evaluation was pixexx given as the student moved to more advanced classes.  He also mentioned that TRD is bringing on board a who is a specialist in 25X1 tests and measurements. He will work on the evaluation program. The Col. asked that no suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program be made until Mr. had completed his surveys. The Col. thought that this might take six months.  25X1  Said that some people had questioned the value of live problems as a method of training. He pointed out that some people had difficulty in getting into the mood when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters marray because the instructor was playing the part.  25X1  Problems and delivered problems and course of action in dealing with certain characters marray because the instructor was playing the part.	25X1	the people whom he intended to see, but that recent events had prevented a natural most of
25X1  thought they might be able to visit who they felt might have something to offer to the committee.  Mr. W. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value. pointed out that but a very very few people were ever dropped after completing the CC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that less and less emphasis on evaluation was pixem given as the student moved to more advanced classes.  He also mentioned that TRD is bringing on board a who is a specialist in tests and measurements. He will work on the evaluation program. The Col. asked that no suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program be made until Mr. had completed his surveys. The Col. thought that this might take six months.  25X1  asaid that some people had questioned the value of live problems as a method of training. He pointed out that some people had difficulty in getting into the mood when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters margly because the instructor was playing the part.  25X1  printed out that TRD baseletant program presented the same people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters margly because the instructor was playing the part.	25X1	The minutes were promised to him and delivered to him at the close of the session.
25X1    might have something to offer to the committee.    Mr. N. mentioned that a few desk heads had suggested less emphasis on evaluation and a greater emphasis on training in courses beyond the basic. He then brought up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value.	:	arom of difference time came for setting up the political course and at that time up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value.  people were ever dropped after completing the CC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that less and less emphasis on evaluation was mineral given as the student moved to more advanced classes.  He also mentioned that TRD is bringing on board a who is a specialist in tests and measurements. He will work on the evaluation program. The Col. asked that no suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program be made until Mr.  had completed his surveys. The Col. thought that this might take six months.  25X1  said that some people had questioned the value of live problems as a method of training. He pointed out that some people had difficulty in getting into the mood when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters merally because the instructor was playing the part.  25X1  pointed out that TRD beauting each propositional page of the instructor was playing the part.	25X1	thought they might be able to wish.
tests and measurements. He will work on the evaluation program. The Col. asked that no suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program be made until Mr.  had completed his surveys. The Col. thought that this might take six months.  25X1  said that some people had questioned the value of live problems as a method of training. He pointed out that some people had difficulty in getting into the mood when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters merally because the instructor was playing the part.		up the live problems which he said some people felt were given more for evaluation purposes than for training value. pointed out that but a very very few people were ever dropped after completing the OC; that most of the people who were failed by training were dropped upon completion of the SOC; and that have and the when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters merely because the instructor was playing the part.  25X1  25X1	25X1	no suggestions for any radical changes in the evaluation program. The Col. asked that
25X1 pointed out that TRB chad to deep property and appropriate and appropriat	25X1	said that some people had questioned the value of live problems as a method of training. He pointed out that some people had difficulty in getting into the mood when one instructor played all of the parts and that some people hesitated to take a logical course of action in dealing with certain characters merely because the instructor was playing the part.
MALLOT DESCRIPTION AND A SALE LANGE 17	25X1	pointed out, that TER had to death proper manage and an accompany of the contract of the contr

Approved For Release 2003/11/19 : CIA

Mr. H. asked whether it would be possible for some of the agency officials to sit in on one of the live problems in order to see how they were conducted.

He went on to point out that in practice it has not proven feasible to have each instructor play only one part in a live problem.

Mr. W. said that he would like to sit in on one of the live problems.
Mr. H. then brought up the subjects to be covered with These were 1) coordination between courses, 2) improvement of the SOC, 3) comparative emphasis on evaluation, and 4) inclusion of defensive aspects of technical training in one of the common instruction courses mentioned that inclusion of administrative training in staff courses might be discussed with Mr. G.
A discussion of whether the committee should examine course content then ensued. It was decided that this would be too time consuming and was probably beyond the functions of the committee.
Mr. G. said that Staff II of OPC would include two highly graded officials in the Support and Advisory Section warkaxx who would deal with training matters. He said that the people in the Standards and Techniques section would probably not be ready to work on training matters for some time to come.
It was decided that the committee would check the schedules of the various courses at the 7 July meeting and subsequent meetings. If a question arose as to the content of a particular lecture, then the chief instructor would be called upon to explain the material presented.
Mr. H. made a pleamx for assistance in acquiring case histories, either as is or in sterile form, for use in TRD, particularly in ASTS courses. He thought that it might be possible for the committee might be able to draw up a set of basic principles in the selection of cases which would give assurance to desk heads that the security of their operations would not be jeopardized promised to discuss the problem with appropriate OSO officials.

CONFIDENTIAL

25X1